What Is Door-to-Door Freight Forwarding?

An end-to-end logistics solution

Door-to-door freight forwarding is an end-to-end logistics solution where a freight forwarder coordinates the movement of goods from the supplier's location to the final delivery address.

- Origin pickup
- Export documentation & booking
- International transportation
- Customs clearance
- Destination handling
- Last-mile transportation & final delivery

ONE SHIPMENT.

ONE COORDINATED JOURNEY.

How Does Door-to-Door Freight Forwarding Work?

Six coordinated stages

01 Pickup at Origin

Cargo is collected, documented, transported, cleared and delivered under coordinated management.

02 Export Processing

Cargo is collected, documented, transported, cleared and delivered under coordinated management.

03 International Freight

Cargo is collected, documented, transported, cleared and delivered under coordinated management.

04 Import Customs Clearance

Cargo is collected, documented, transported, cleared and delivered under coordinated management.

05 Destination Transportation

Cargo is collected, documented, transported, cleared and delivered under coordinated management.

06 Final-Mile Delivery

Cargo is collected, documented, transported, cleared and delivered under coordinated management.

Why Businesses Choose Door-to-Door Shipping

International shipping involves multiple parties, documents, regulations and handovers. Door-to-door forwarding simplifies the complexity.

- Single point of coordination
- Reduced operational complexity
- Better shipment visibility
- Simplified documentation
- Coordinated customs clearance
- Optimized transportation planning
- Reduced communication gaps
- Greater control over delivery timelines

Key Benefits of Door-to-Door Freight Forwarding

01 Convenience

One logistics partner coordinates the complete movement.

02 Better Visibility

Track shipment progress across different stages.

03 Time Efficiency

Professional coordination can help reduce avoidable delays.

04 Cost Optimization

Transportation options can be selected according to cargo requirements.

05 Simplified Customs

Documentation and customs processes are coordinated by experts.

06 Reduced Risk

Fewer handovers can reduce operational gaps.

Door-to-Door vs Port-to-Port Freight

	Port-to-Port	Door-to-Door
Coverage	Between ports	Complete shipment journey
Destination logistics	Managed separately	Forwarder coordinates delivery
Coordination	More involvement for buyer	Single point of coordination
Customs / inland	May be separate	Can be integrated
Convenience	Greater operational involvement	More integrated and convenient

Air, Sea & Multimodal Door-to-Door Solutions

The right mode depends on cargo, urgency, volume, destination and budget.

AIR FREIGHT

Ideal for time-sensitive shipments, high-value goods, smaller consignments and urgent international deliveries.

SEA FREIGHT

Ideal for large-volume shipments, FCL/LCL cargo and cost-sensitive international transportation.

MULTIMODAL FREIGHT

Combines transportation modes to create an efficient end-to-end route.

IGF Express provides international freight solutions across air, sea, land and multimodal transportation.

Why Choose an International Freight Forwarding Company?

International freight is more than moving cargo from one country to another.

Global Trade Regulations	Different countries have different import/export requirements.
Customs Compliance	Incorrect documentation or classification can cause delays and additional costs.
Carrier Coordination	Selecting and coordinating the right transportation option is critical.
Shipment Visibility	Businesses need timely updates to plan inventory and operations.
Last-Mile Execution	International freight is complete only when cargo reaches its final destination.

Businesses need more than a transporter — they need an experienced freight forwarding partner.
